Praise points for the Nigeria Christian University Project (Imala, Ogun State) and CDF

We pray you have a great holiday season as we celebrate the birth of our King. This year, we once again reflect and remember what God has done throughout the year. The first set of pictures below capture two programs God has helped us restore, feeding the poor and our health days; also included are pictures of kids we scholarship. It brings joy to see the smiling faces. We also thank God for his provision of Dr Godfrey. As shown in the second row of pictures, in addition to helping the community through our health day programs, he serves at the government clinic once a week. We take great pleasure in joining our supporters in helping the “least of these”, a Jesus priority.

The next set of pictures illustrate progress in our agriculture research and vocational training programs. This year we added five government-approved vocational programs; we are expanding to train 200 students every six months. The picture on the right below shows our additional greenhouse for agriculture research, a key part of our seed activities for PIU’s college of agriculture. We also started a seed program for the college of education, a weekend program helping teachers achieve national certification.

We thank God for our newly formed PIU board. The executive committee is shown meeting with our chairman, Elder Ohiwari. Pastor Segun and Archbishop Stevens (shown with his wife in the second picture) are part of the new board; they are playing key roles in our community outreach programs. This year’s highlight was our “Celebrating New Beginnings” event. We are also thankful for the Imala leaders (right photo) helping the project.

Attached on the second page is a group of pictures illustrating the entire Imala project and provides a map showing areas we are working with Ogun State on getting full title.

Thank you for joining us in prayer, for standing with us!
